Heavy artillery exchanges continue along the front before Verdun but the German infantry has not returned the assault. The chief point of attack of the German guns last night was the area between Malancourt wood and Hill 304, to the west of the sector bombarding it most vigorously in the preceding twenty-four hours. Although severe artillery fighting continued in the vicinity of Corbeaux wood near the west bank of the river. East of the Meuse there were intermittent artillery engagements.

Increased activity on the Galician front is indicated by a statement from the Austrian war office. Among the lower Stripa there were several brisk engagements for possession of advanced positions. Russian artillery is bombarding portions of this front heavily.

In the Austro-Italian campaign repeated attacks were made on each side. Austrian troops captured an Italian position at Mrzlin beating back several counter-attacks with heavy losses for the Italians.

The British ship Shenandoah, 3,886 tons has been sunk by a mine. The captain and part of the crew were landed. Two men are missing. A news agency dispatch from The Hague says the German foreign office is perturbed on account of the dissatisfaction expressed in the United States at the German note in regard to the Sussex. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is reported to have had several conferences with Ambassador Gerard and Count von Bernier. Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and have sent lengthy instructions to Ambassador von Bernstorff at Washington. According to these advices, German officials now seem willing to do everything possible to avoid the rupture with the United States.

Newark Is All Right, Says Raymond, Who Tells Citizens to Get Together and Boost

"If you would succeed in your work, get rid of the idea that Newark isn't all right. Get together, live together and BOOST. If you have one bit of civic pride about you, you will all get together next Tuesday night and help boost the chamber of commerce and help it to make Newark the liveliest town in the state of Ohio."

These were the sentiments expressed last night in the second lecture of Frank Jewell Raymond when he talked to a large audience at the High school auditorium, the second of a series of two lectures under the auspices of the Newark Merchants Association.

Mr. Jewell's talk last night was more particularly to the employe, though he had some things to say to the employer as well. His talk was practical and to the point. As he said, he was not presenting any new thoughts, but was seeking to emphasize the importance of giving serious consideration to recognized weaknesses in present day salesmanship. "The important thing to do to be a successful salesperson," he said, "is to inform yourself. Get one idea, a day. Set it down on a card or in

SELF DEFENSE ARE TO WEAR TROUSERS.

[Associated Press Telegram]

New York, April 15.—Members of the American Woman's League for Self-Defense, who have been attending weekly drills all winter, voted last night to wear trousers as part of their uniform. They denounced dresses as a "curse and burden" and advised women who might be called on to guard their homes in case of war, to get rid of them. Mrs. H. Hungerford, Millbank, head of the organization, objected to trousers on the ground that they would be opposed by husbands.

GRAVE DANGERS NOW THREATEN AMERICAN LINE

MOTOR TRUCKS FILLED WITH RATIONS AWAIT ORDERS TO PROCEED.

Every Preparation Being Made to Keep Lines Intact—No Word
From Pershing to Funston.

[Associated Press Telegram]

Columbus, N. M., April 15.—Gravest concern for the safety of the American line of communication was manifested in military quarters here today. Every preparation has been made at the base here to keep the line intact.

Motor trucks lined up and filled with rations stood in front of military headquarters waiting and the telegraph station here was ordered to be kept open all night.

No reason was offered at military headquarters for the unusual activity but official reports gave assurances that it was based upon reports made by Captain U. S. Grant, in command of a small detachment of Americans guarding the line at Ascension, sixty miles south of the border.

It is known that with diplomatic relations between the United States and Carranza pending, close watch is being made for a trace of the 4,000 men under General Gomez, who were reported to be moving from Sonora into Chihuahua in such a way as to prevent possible menace to the American line of communication. However, reports from military sources indicate that the force today could not be located in northwestern Chihuahua.

From the fact that no word from General Pershing has passed through here for several days, it is assured that the expeditionary column headquarters is beyond communication with the American end of the supply route. Numbers of messages passing through here from General Funston indicate further that the department commander is directing the new move presently.

Lieutenants H. A. Dargue and E. S. Gorrell of the army aero corps, plan to leave today for a 400-mile flight to General Pershing's camp carrying dispatches telling of conditions in Northern Chihuahua.

YOUNG WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN A CISTERN

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, April 15.—Police today investigated the mysterious death of Miss Lillian Schwenker, aged 19, whose half-clad body was found floating in the cistern of her home last night, on the theory that she had committed suicide. The possibility that robbers ransacked the house and murdered the girl appeared slight today in view of the fact that nothing had been stolen, although the house was found in a confused condition with furniture overturned. The police cited these circumstances in support of the suicide theory.

The girl had been despondent at times. Her father's razor evidently had been used to slash her wrists. Part of the girl's clothing was scattered about in different rooms of the house. She had not been criminally assaulted. The Schwenker house is not pretentious and ordinarily would not be considered a prize for robbers.

Police authorities suggested she put the house in disorder as a means of indicating that she had battled with an intruder. Failing in efforts to slash her wrists, she believed she removed the cover from the cistern and jumped in. The mother and sister found her body there on returning home late in the evening. The father, who is deaf, was asleep in an upstairs room.

FRENCH REPORT.

Paris, April 15, 11:55 a. m.—There was no infantry fighting in the Verdun region last night. French positions between Malancourt wood and Hill 304, west of the Meuse, were subjected to severe bombardment and there were light artillery exchanges near the northwest edge of the Corbeaux wood. East of the river an intermittent bombardment was carried on.

POMERENE

DEFENDS OHIO MILITIA AGAINST ATTACKS OF SENATOR
BORAH.

[Associated Press Telegram]

Washington, April 15.—An attack on the Ohio National Guard by Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican, featured discussion of the army reorganization bill in the senate today. Senator Pomerene of Ohio went to the defense of the militia relating to Senator Borah's charges of extravagance against militia officers.

The discussion followed amendment of the bill, 33 to 23, to require guardsmen to take oath to obey orders of the president as well as the governor of their state.

To illustrate his charges of extravagance, Senator Borah said: "I find according to the report of the war department that the Ohio National rifle match, 1911, $13,892 was expended on the state rifle team all of whom were officers. In the period from July 22, 1911, to September 21, 1912, an officer, a colonel, drew pay to the amount of $1411. In the period from July 1, 1911, to September 15, 1912, another officer also in the same state, a colonel, drew pay to the amount of $1601."

"In the period from July 30, 1911, to September 1, 1913, a third colonel in the state drew pay to the amount of $1299. So the entire appropriation or appropriation to the state of Ohio for that year practically went to the officers and there is no report of any portion of it going to enlisted men."

GRUBB PLEADED GUILTY; TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

Arthur Grubb was arraigned in court this morning on the charge of arson and entered a plea of guilty. He was then sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for an indeterminate period and was taken to that institution this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Frank Brown.

Grubb was jointly indicted with Augustus O. Kern on a manslaughter charge, as well as the indictment for arson. The former remains undisposed of.

It will be remembered that Grubb confessed to the firing of the Kern hotel on January 6, 1914, five persons losing their lives as a result of the conflagration, all being lodgers in the place.

Kern, who also was indicted for manslaughter and arson is now out on bail and his trial will come up during the present term of court.

STICKER ON $1 BILL MAY PUT IN BLUE; SIGNED "JEAN CRONES."

Toledo, April 15.—A one dollar bill pasted upon the back of which was a drug store sticker bearing the skull and crossbones and the name "Jean Crones," furnished police early this morning with a possible clue to the whereabouts of the alleged Chicago poisoner.

The bill was turned over to the police by a taxi driver to whom it was given by a man he took to the union station shortly after midnight. It was said the former possessor of the money purchased a ticket for the east.

[Associated Press Telegram]

Washington, April 15.—The United States government today was ready for its next step in the crisis with Germany over submarine warfare. This was the preparation of a communication to be sent to Berlin designed to bring the situation to an issue.

The communication will go forward within the next few days. The impression prevails here that it will not be dispatched pending a careful examination of all the evidence at hand regarding recent submarine cases, including affidavits as the English channel steamer Sussex, which arrived yesterday.

Indications are, however, that the United States case against Germany is complete without the latest affidavits and that Germany will be informed that the Washington government considers she has not fulfilled promises made to this country.

Secretary Lansing continued work today on the statement of the American case which will be forwarded to Berlin and thus dispelled intimations that it might already have been started on its way. Mr. Lansing compared the affidavits on the attack on the Sussex which arrived here last night with information already before the department. The President kept in touch with Secretary Lansing during the day and was informed of the contents of the affidavits received on the St. Paul.

Final Rush for Tickets to "Forward Newark" Banquet Began Saturday Morning

The first of the final rush for tickets for the big "Forward Newark" dinner Monday night at the Knights of Pythias hall started this morning when persons desiring to get tickets began to appear at campaign headquarters, room 409 Newark Trust building. All indications point to a function that will be long remembered in this city. The program has been finally completed and is considered one of the best that has been arranged for any affair in the interest of building a greater city.

Because of the fact that many persons have been overlooked in the invitations, the committee has requested the newspapers to announce that all individuals who desire to endorse the movement are especially requested to call at headquarters and secure tickets. The official program is as follows:

Chairman—C. H. Spencer.
Toastmaster—F. L. Beggs.

Nothing From Pershing

ONLY IMPORTANT REPORTS

Having Definite and Certain Information Have Been Sent to General Funston
From the Front—Officials Doubt That Clash at Parral Was As Serious As at First Supposed.

[Associated Press Telegram]

Washington, April 15.—Secretary Lansing pronounced the Mexican situation unchanged today in any aspect.

Unless official reports to General Funston disclose a more grave situation at Parral where American troops were set upon, than is now believed to exist, there was nothing to indicate that a change might be expected in the near future.

Secretary Baker said General Funston had not heard from General Pershing directly for 3 days. This caused no uneasiness at the war department, however, as General Pershing has reported only when he had definite and important information to communicate. Reports from other commanders in the field gave no new status to the pursuit of Villa and his bandits.

As time passes without official information of the Parral fighting from American source, officials are inclined to doubt that the clash was as serious as described in early Mexican advices. It was considered unlikely that the American force was in any danger since the commander might have sent back messages to the nearest supporting column.

Some army officers thought it probable that when a report was received it would show the detachment had passed in or around Parral since the disorder and was proceeding about its business of pursuing Villa, headed for its original destination beyond the town. Publication in Mexico City to the terms the Carranza government seeks to impose limiting any reciprocal troop movements across the international boundary shed much light on the diplomatic tangle which preceded General Carranza's suggestion that the American troops be recalled from Mexico.

Secretary Lansing declined to discuss the matter. At the time the facts of government suggested that no expeditionary force should exceed 1,000 cavalrymen and not cross a dead line, there were several thousand American troops of all arms in Mexico and they were 200 miles or more south of the border.

Secretary Lansing has given no indication as to when a reply to the Carranza note proposing the withdrawal of the troops might be sent. Several days may elapse before such a communication can be completed. The secretary is known to have many details to consider.

Meanwhile a report from the commander of the American cavalry attacked by Mexican natives at Parral is anxiously awaited. It is expected to throw light on the fate of the little force and to clear up the conflict of information regarding the attack.

The Carranza version is that his troops did everything to stop the firing upon the Americans. Unofficial advices, however, assert that Carringtons tonight.

NEWARK MEN WHO WILL GET MEMBERSHIPS

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE STARTS ON TUESDAY.

Hundred Well Known Newark Men Have Volunteered to Work for Three Days.

Whether or not Newark's great movement to organize a modern and efficient Chamber of Commerce will succeed is answered in the affirmative by the list of representative business and professional men who have volunteered their services for the most thorough campaign in the history of Newark.

The campaign will take place next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the work of the committees taking place between the hours of 9:30 and 12 o'clock each morning. In that seven and a half hours of time, the hundred men here listed will complete the work.

The campaign will be a great example of what is possible when the leading men of the community work together on a definite plan, under definite leadership, at a definite time.

- It is probable that other men will be added to this list before the work starts Tuesday morning, as a number of citizens have not had a chance through inability to attend the preliminary meetings to sign one of the cards to give this personal service for the benefit of a greater Newark.

be sold. If you talk too fast, the exposure isn't sufficient to make a clear impression. If you go back over your selling arguments and re-touch them as the photographer re-touches the negative, the impression is apt to be clouded, or blurred. Study your customer and give his mind plate the proper exposure to reproduce the correct impression.

"These photographic plates might be divided into three classes. The head plate, the heart plate and the physical plate. Call them types if you like.

"If you make a rapid diagnosis of your customer's type your way is clear. The head type, as the goods are examined, says 'I know, I see, I feel.' To this type, tangible arguments must be used. The heart type must be presented with solid facts, practical arguments. The heart type says with less positiveness 'I believe'

I am not certain. I don't know. Their feelings govern their actions and the selling arguments must be more of a sentimental nature, softness of fabric, harmony of colors, how pleasing to others, or similar arguments. Then the head type is the one inflated with his own self importance. His energies govern his actions. He must be handled with mental jujitsu. Give him more rope and he'll hang himself. After he has 'blown off steam' he is easily handled.

"If your customer makes you angry it only demonstrates that he has more control over you than you have self control.

"To the employer, I would say don't reprimand or 'call down' your help in public. You merely advertise the fact that your business lacks organization, and that you lack self control. It destroys the efficiency of the employee for the rest of the day. You might as well send him home.

"Another important feature in selling, is to get in 'mental step' with your customer. If you were taking a walk with a friend you naturally would fall into step. Just bear in mind that you are taking your customer for a 'mental walk.' Let the customer set the pace, fall 'in step' with him. The way he examines articles tells you how fast pictures are sent to his brain. His talking tells you how fast his brain sends out impressions and how fast he takes in thought. If you have a slow customer, don't go too fast. He will become confused and you may find it necessary to retrace your steps.

"If you talk too slowly for the quick thinker, he likely will become restless and nervous and before you realize it the sale is lost.

"But don't get the idea that the slow thinker does not arrive at a logical conclusion. It may take him longer to reach the point but he gets there just the same.

"It is not so much what you say to your customer that makes the impression, it is largely the way you say it. Put your heart into your words. Say them as though you meant what you say. To get your customer's attention, give him words.

"In most selling it is possible to use more than two wires; more than two methods of conveying thoughts to him. For instance if its stocks and bonds or life insurance, use your pencil, figuring to show cost, profits, etc. By so doing you draw a picture as well as making one with your spoken words.

"A salesperson is one who can not only fill orders, but make sales. A mechanical vendor, a slot machine is not good as some clerks.

"Salespeople might be divided into three classes: Order takers, order makers and order shakers. The first is the clerk who merely has a list of the article wanted and recites it. The second is the clerk who suggests other purchases to the customer. He is wide awake. The third is the type who has so often met who says 'you don't want a hat, do you?' or 'I can't sell you a shirt, can I?' He states a fact to the customer, in which the customer readily agrees. Don't do it.

"Then remember that success begins in the home. Thrift is one of the things that brings contentment. Keep what you have. Don't make your home a nice house outside and an ice house inside.

"Making dollars won't always bring you contentment. Be thrifty in holding the good will of your fellow workers, your friends and your business acquaintances."

BOYS SENT TO LANCASTER FOR STEALING AUTO

Two boys aged 15 and 16 respectively were ordered taken to the Lancaster reform farm by Juvenile Judge Hunter today. The boys purloined a demonstrating car of Clyde Bowman last night and started out on a joy ride. The car was left standing by Mr. Bowman and when the lads backed out to the street he heard them "stripping the goats" and saw his machine vanishing down East Main street.

Mr. Bowman immediately notified police headquarters and requested that officers be sent out the Wilkins Run road, stating that he would pick up another officer and start out the Newark-Zanesville road. He secured the Martin taxi cab and picked up Officer Lewis Swinehart was soon on the track of the stolen auto. He found that the machine was going toward Hanover at a pretty rapid rate, being informed of that fact by drivers coming toward Newark. When near Hanover they recognized the Bowman car coming toward them. Mr. Martin jumped out of the taxi and ordered the boys to stop, but they did not do so. He then jumped on the running board and Officer Swinehart jumped from the car and fired in the air in an effort to frighten the lads. Mr. Martin, thinking that he was firing at the tires of the car jumped from the machine and away it sped, leaving the pursuers in the rear.

Later the boys abandoned the stolen car and Chief Sheridan and Patrolman Chas. Hager, who were searching the east end of the city, met them at O'Bannon avenue. They were turned over to the juvenile court. The lads were taken to Lancaster this afternoon by Probation Officer John Dwyer.

ject that is of vital interest to Newark. The future of this city is going to depend largely upon the co-operation between Newark and the farmers in its surrounding territory and Mr. Price has been thinking of ways to bring this co-operation about.

The ability of Mr. Fitzgibbon who will talk on the value of co-operation. Mr. Stasel who will explain the machinery of the new organization, and of Mr. Beggs, the toastmaster, is too well-known for comment.

Seats for the dinner will be on sale Monday at campaign headquarters so long as they last. Those desiring to attend, however, are requested to get their tickets as early as possible in order to give the caterers an idea of how many plates to set for.

The progress of the movement has been entirely satisfactory to the leaders who are all gratified at the volunteer offers of support from all lines of business and profession. They do not anticipate any trouble next week in securing a great membership for the new organization. Over a hundred of the leading men of the city have indorsed the movement by agreeing to give their personal services next week to a great membership canvass. In addition to these, scores of men have written their indorsement to this movement. Excerpts from some of these letters are as follows:

Wilson Hawkins, superintendent of schools—"I certainly am heartily in favor of all the interests in Newark getting together under some such plan as is now under consideration. If people interested in this city expect Newark to make the showing that she ought to make when the next census is taken, it will be necessary for everybody to get together to promote the welfare of this city and to spread its advantages throughout the country."

Rev. B. M. O'Boylan—"I shall be happy to co-operate with you in every enterprise for the benefit of our city."

Frank Espey, general manager of the Ohio Light and Power Co.—"You can count on our company doing its share to this important movement for a greater Newark."

Chas. E. Hollander, general manager Newark Telephone Co.—"I want you to call upon me for any kind of service that I can give. My heart and soul is in this movement for building up our city. If we will all get together, make the Chamber of Commerce a real business, everybody will be surprised at results."

Colonel W. C. Seward—"I heartily indorse any movement which has a tendency for the up-lifting and up-building of our city."

Richard Lee Taneyhill—"I heartily indorse the Chamber of Commerce movement as a whole and the proposed bureau of activities as far as they have been outlined. If I should be called upon to take any part of the work I should desire that such work be limited to the civic bureau for that is the part of the work I would be of greatest service."

ranza soldiers participated in the attack.

Apparently the immediate withdrawal of the American forces in Mexico is not contemplated. It is understood that the success of the de facto government in demonstrating its intention and ability to hunt down Villa and his bandits, in event the American expedition is recalled, would have a great weight with President Wilson in reaching a decision regarding the matter.

President Wilson had before him today several long messages from Gen. Funston. They were presented to him by Secretary of War Baker at a midnight conference last night. The secretary's visit at such a late hour attracted considerable interest here, although he declared afterwards that no significance could be attached to it. The contents of the Funston dispatches had not been disclosed early today.

Eliseo Arrondona, General Carranza's ambassador here, said today he had no further information of the fighting at Parral, nor of reports of a later clash and had been advised of no developments in General Carranza's proposal for the withdrawal of American troops.

Dispatches to the Carranza embassy said the arrival of the general and his party in Mexico City was accompanied by a popular demonstration.

A battle at Cuernavaca, the Zapata stronghold, was reported imminent. The advance guard of the Carranza force was said to be in plain sight of the fortress.

The proposed Chamber of Commerce appeals very strongly to me. So far as your plans have already been made public they have my heartiest indorsement. What our city needs today pre-eminently is a pull together spirit that unselfishly places the good of the whole city above that of individual advancement.

W. J. Howers—"Indorse the 'Forward Newark' movement? Why shouldn't I? Why shouldn't anyone in Newark? Newark and her people have everything to gain by advancing. Why should Newark stand still when opportunity is at her door? Yes, I indorse the 'Forward Newark' movement most heartily."

O. C. Larason—"I am in very deep sympathy with the movement. The value of co-operation in civic work has been shown by some of our people in the West Locust Street Beautifying Society."

Harry Scott—"It is only necessary to say that I heartily indorse the get-together movement. Newark's greatest weakness has been its failure to work together and create an adequate community spirit."

F. H. BALLOU IS PROMOTED TO A BETTER POSITION

F. H. Ballou who, for the past eight years has served in the dual capacity of assistant horticulturist of the Ohio experiment station, in charge of orchard experiments in the southern district of Ohio, and secretary of the Ohio State Horticultural Society, has submitted his resignation to the executive committee of the latter, as secretary, as the result of his promotion by the experiment station to the position of supervisor of horticultural work at the various sub and county experiment station of Ohio.

There are at present eight county experiment stations in the state as follows: Trumbull, Mahoning, Paulding, Miami, Cuyahoga, Hamilton and Washington (2). The sub-stations are located in Cuyahoga, Meigs, Montgomery and Hancock counties.

Mr. Ballou will have charge not only of all branches of horticultural work at the various points named, but also of the ornamental plantings about the home grounds at the dozen different stations.

As secretary of the Ohio State Horticultural Society Mr. Ballou at this time has his 25th publication in press, not including many circulars issued in promotion of the interests of the society and Ohio state apple show which for five years was held under the auspices of this horticultural organization.

RESIDENTS SAY JITNEY BUS IS A GREAT WORRY

Petitions are being circulated on Elmwood avenue by several property owners, protesting against the jitney bus owned by Cecil Bigbee, operating on that street. The petitioners allege that the heavy machine passing over the street, breaks curbs and mangles and jars plastering from the walls of the houses.

It was rumored yesterday that a subscription was to be raised money to get an injunction to stop the bus. Since the re-surfacing work on Hudson avenue has been going on the jitney bus has been operating a part of route over Elmwood avenue.

Another petition has been circulated on Hudson avenue, which will probably be presented to council at the next regular meeting. This petition protests against the present use of solid rubber tires on the jitney bus, and recommends that pneumatic tires be placed on the machine instead.

This is impossible, according to owner Bigbee, who claims that the 2 1/2 tonnage bus is too heavy for pneumatic tires. If council is called upon to decide this issue, a warm argument is anticipated.

Health and happiness are synonymous terms. Any one who doubts this statement needs but call any one of the many millionaires who make daily offers of untold wealth to the medical fraternity for a few months or even weeks of genuinely good health and its attendant happiness. The old story of the shirtless beggar and the unhappy king contains more than a grain of truth. Health is wealth but the multitude fail to realize this until they find the golden chord almost at the breaking point.

Why pay Tire Bills for Others— —i. e., for RECKLESS Drivers

AMERICANS who want their money's worth,—who dislike to pay for the Reckless-driving extravagance of Others,—in the price of their own Tires, should sit up and take notice of following FACTS:—

The current Goodrich "Fair-List" price on Tires, is based upon what it costs the largest, and best equipped, Rubber Factory in America to produce them.

No "Insurance" Premium added to the NORMAL retail price of Goodrich Tires, in order to protect the Reckless Driver at the expense of the Careful Driver, through a fancy List Price which is high enough to absorb that Premium.

The excess Mileage each Goodrich Tire is reasonably certain to deliver, when given reasonable care in driving, thus becomes clear "Velvet" to the Owner of GOODRICH Tires.

Money can't make, and can't buy, better Tires of Fabric construction, than Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires, as Test will prove.

And, money can't buy the B. F. Goodrich Co. to produce Tires which would discredit the 269 other lines of Rubber Goods made by the B. F. Goodrich Co., for which its name stands Sponsor.

COMPARE prices on Goodrich "Fair-List" Tires with present prices on any other responsible Tires in the field, bearing in mind that NO "LARGER-SIZED" Tires (type for type and size for size) than Goodrich Black-Treads, are made in America.

Then, Test out at least ONE pair of Goodrich black-tread Tires, on their per-DELIVERED-Mile cost to you, against any other Tires in the field, at any price, and,—abide by the Result.

Why (if YOU are not a Reckless Driver) should YOU pay MORE than the "BUSINESS" price of the Goodrich Tire, for ANY Fabric Tire in the field?

Get a sliver of the new Goodrich "Barefoot" Rubber from your nearest Goodrich Dealer or Branch.

men of his city that the proper way to use the rouge pot and puff for the purpose of securing a beautiful complexion, was to carry them several miles from the house to the open country, bury them and walk home, and daily thereafter walk out and dig them up and bury them again, walking home every time.

This sage advice reminds me of one of the late O. Henry's last stories about a neurosthenic who was sent to the mountains for his health. There he met a native doctor, to whom he confided his symptoms.

"I know the very thing for you," said the doctor, gravely. "In these mountains grow a rare herb. Find it, bring it to me, and I'll brew from its leaves a potion that will make you well. Better, I'll help you find it. But it is very rare, and do not be discouraged if we do not find it right away."

So they set forth. Day after day they wandered over the hills and valleys, looking for that herb. Meanwhile they studied the plants and birds and insects. The neurosthenic was busy, very busy—so busy he didn't have time to think about his symptoms. Always he had in view the magic herb, which the doctor continued to dwell upon, and sick man was so tired each night that he dropped into a long and dreamless sleep. In the morning he awoke with a ravenous appetite, and fresh, for another day's explorations. They never found the herb but in seeking it, the neurosthenic found health.

Occupation for his mind to keep it away from "symptoms"; physical exercise to build him up and create an appetite for food and sleep; these were all the herbs he needed. He never found the herb—there was none of course—but he got well. Health, wealth and happiness—these three are waiting for all who will go out and live in God's own outdoors.

Another Speech By the President.

(Ohio State Journal, Rep.) President Wilson made another great speech last Thursday, at a Jefferson day banquet at Washington. While it was a Democratic speech it was as replete with patriotic sentiment as one might imagine a Republican speech to be. In fact, politics in a party sense was ignored. He said:

Frankly, gentlemen, I am not interested in personal ambitions. May I not admit even in this company that I am not enthusiastic over mere party success? What does he mean—this leader of the Democratic party? Simply this, that no mere party triumph excites the nation. There must be connected with it the spirit of a high and patriotic purpose, in which all party claims are spurned. And then he says:

This country has not the time, it is not now in the temper, to listen to the violent, to the passionate, to the ambitious. And yet, the violent, the passionate and the ambitious are the ones who are trying to run this country. One can hardly utter a word of cool, common sense without the politicians attacking him from all sides. Further the President said:

This country demands service which is essentially and fundamentally nonpartisan. Some gentlemen will learn this soon, some will learn it late, but they will all learn it so thoroughly that it will be digested. This country demands at this time as it never did before absolute disinterested and nonpartisan service.

This is the reason we like President Wilson. It is not because he is a Democrat. If he were nothing more, we would oppose him strenuously. But there is something manly about his utterances, somewhat that appeals to our old-time Republicanism, and in that connection we like to think of him. In his fine sermon at the Grand in this city last Wednesday, Rev. Dr. Hugh Black said that the religion did not depend upon party, class or doctrine. Its hope was in the divine spirit; and that is the only reliance of patriotism. We quote again from the President's speech:

These are days that discredit selfish speech. These are days that ought to quiet ill-considered counsel. These are solemn days, when all the moral standards of mankind are about to be finally tried out. And the President does not limit those trials of moral standards to foreign controversy, but to local politics, for indeed we will never have the best national politics until state and local politics lead the way.

Mexico Rising Against Us.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

Real trouble for the United States seems to have broken out in Mexico. Just what the situation is has not been made clear, but there has been a rising of civilians against our troops at Parral, which may or may not have been fomented by the Carranza military forces there. The news of the encounter, in which many lives were lost on both sides, following soon after a note from Carranza intimating his desire that our punitive expedition be withdrawn from Mexican soil, has a sinister aspect. Carranza reports that column of American troops entered Parral and the commander was warned that his presence in the city was contrary to the rule made for the hunt for Villa. He says the Americans withdrew but were attacked by civilians. The Americans replied with shots. The disturbance was finally quelled by the Mexican soldiers. And so, Carranza wires, the Americans should be withdrawn from Mexico at once, else he may not be able to control his people. The earlier report said that the Carranza garrison at Parral had participated in the attack on the Americans. Whether they did or not, this incident may be the beginning of that uprising that has been feared.

led from the inception of the expedition to hunt down the Villa bands. It is what President Wilson was so desirous to avoid and which led him to adopt a tone toward the de facto government in arranging for the punitive expedition that would cause the minimum of irritation to the Mexican people.

When Carranza's first note was received yesterday proposing that we withdraw from Mexico because the object of our expedition had been accomplished in the scattering of the Villa bandits, the decision in Washington was to refuse to accede. Suspicion was cast upon the de facto President's good faith because he assumed that our forces are in Mexico contrary to the will of his government. Grave possibilities might follow upon his insistence that he had not assented to our right to follow a "hot trail." It now seems that he may have been laying his plans to force us to get out or fight. The conflict at Parral coming so soon may be more than significant. We can hardly withdraw on so insolent a demand. And with our troops spread out as they are in Mexico, with little reserve force to be sent to their assistance, our boys may be in a bad case, indeed. There are plenty of Carranza troops throughout the country traversed by the expeditionary force, and it is reasonable to believe that if they attempt to eject the American soldiers the citizenry, many of them likely former followers of Villa, will assist them. The prospect of massacre of American soldiers is very disquieting. The result could hardly be less than war with Mexico. That would put an end to the hunt for Villa, and very likely would restore that previous scoundrel to favor with a command that would empower him to take such revenge against the "gringos" as only one like himself, and placed like he could hope for. We are not ready for conflict with even such a weak power as Mexico. Though the warning prospect has been before us for weeks, to say nothing of the events of years preceding Villa's raid, we are unprepared. Congress and the administration have continued to dawdle. Personal controversies have been permitted to interrupt the course of legislation for the upbuilding of the army and navy. No wonder, then, if Carranza takes courage and attempts a coup that will add stinging to the humiliation which already has been heaped upon us through our own foolishness.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing need to exercise all the firmness and skill they possess in dealing with the situation which has so suddenly blazed up.

Daddy's Bedtime

What the Moon Saw One Fine Evening.

(Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.)

"Oh, daddy, please tell us a bedtime story!" cried the children. So daddy sat down, with Jack and Evelyn on his knees, and told them this story: "The moon is a very jolly fellow and from his place in the sky looks down upon the earth and sees many strange sights, as you know. Sometimes he tells what he sees to little children, and this is what he told a little boy: 'Yesterday I peeped down into a little courtyard all surrounded by houses. In the middle of the court sat a hen with eleven chickens around her.'

"The sunshine streamed over the court, and around the chickens skipped a charming little girl. The hen clucked and spread her wings over her brood in alarm. Then the little girl's father came out into the court and scolded her for frightening the hen, and I slipped behind a cloud and thought no more about it. I turned my back upon that side of the world and paid a great deal of attention to a part of the Ganges river where the air is so still that I can get a beautiful picture of myself in the water and where a lovely Hindu maiden comes nightly to burn a bright lamp so her lover will come back home. She interests me very much more than a little girl bothering a hen with some chickens."

"Is the moon talking, daddy?" asked Jack. "Yes," said daddy. "And the moon said: 'Tonight I looked into the same courtyard again, and soon out came the little girl who frightened the hen. She crept along to the chicken house, lifted the latch and slipped inside with the hen and chickens. The hen cackled and flapped her wings, and the chickens made a great fuss. I saw it all quite plainly, for I peeped in through a hole in the wall. I was quite angry with the naughty child for frightening the poor things, and I was glad when her father came and scolded her worse than he did yesterday. He took her by the arm sternly, and when she bent back her head I saw her big blue eyes were full of tears. 'What are you doing here?' I heard her father say rather harshly."

"The little girl cried and answered her father, 'I only wanted to get in where the lion is so I can kiss her and ask her to forgive me for frightening her so yesterday, and I was afraid to tell you, daddy.'"

"Then her father saw what a sweet child she was and stooped to kiss the dear thing on her forehead, her lips and her eyes. Glad to see this happy ending to the affair, I turned my back upon the courtyard again and glanced over to the Ganges to see if the Hindu maiden had found her lover yet."

Clam Yourself, Colonel! Colonel Roosevelt insists that we "must make disorderly nations behave." The dickens of it is, Colonel, that there's such an infernal lot of 'em just at present.—New York Sun.

And does he think he's setting an example? For the love of Mike what should we do if each of these disorderly nations should take it into its head to behave like the Colonel?

It is a handsome, low tree with a flat, spreading head and in spring it is covered with a profusion of purplish pink flowers which appear before the leaves. The flowers have an agreeable acid taste and are eaten mixed with salad or pickles. The branches are used to dye wool a nankeen color.

BANISH SCROFULA

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cleanses the Blood, Skin Troubles Vanish.

Scrofula eruptions on the face and body are both annoying and disfiguring. Many a complexion would be perfect if they were not present. This disease shows itself in other ways, as bunches in the neck, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, wasting of the muscles, a form of dyspepsia, and general debility.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine completely eradicates scrofula. It purifies and enriches the blood, removes humors, and builds up the whole system. It embodies the careful training, experience, and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.

Scrofula is either inherited or acquired. Better be sure you are quite free from it. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla and begin taking it today.

Society

The Harmonious Embroidery club will meet Tuesday, April 18, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bruhner in Elmwood avenue.

Miss Edith Clark and Mrs. W. Loosie chaperoned a party of young people on a picnic at the Water Works Hill, Friday afternoon after the school hours. Those in the party were: Misses Justine Pearsall, Virginia Martin, Helen Fuller, Helen Norpell, Mildred Simson, Laura Beggs, Lydia Cooper, Helen Loosie, Messrs. John Hart, John Spencer, John Hornby, Gordon Kuster, Seward Legge, Clifford Sturgeon, Thomas Sullivan, Edwin Essington and Abbott McNamara.

Miss Josephine Hull delightfully entertained the members of the Benobia club, on Thursday evening at her home in West Main street. After a short business meeting a social time was enjoyed by the hostess and the following members: Misses Leah Orr, Jessie Simpson, Mary Walker, Frances Monnette, Hazel Long, Catherine Butler and Vernee Bragg. Miss Frances Monnette will entertain the club members with a six o'clock dinner, on April 22nd, at the First Presbyterian church.

The society editor has received the following communication concerning a well known Newark vocalist:

"While in New York City recently the writer had the pleasure of attending a reception given in honor of Miss Elsie Herschberg, at which was gathered about 50 people of musical ability in different lines.

"The affair was to give Miss Herschberg an opportunity to sing for these people and it was most interesting and gratifying to witness the enthusiasm with which the offerings were received by these critical New Yorkers.

"Such prominent people as the following were some of those present: Miss Clara Kalisher, a well established vocal teacher—the hostess, and among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Samson, vocal teachers in the Damrosch school; Harold Osburn Smith, accompanist for Marcella Craft and David Bishop, Mr. Willy Pogany, a prominent painter, Helen Ware, violinist, Anna Zucc, pianist and composer, Mrs. Hauptman, vocalist, Miss Heddo, contralto in a Brooklyn church; Miss Phillips, an artist; Miss Bauer, musical critic for the 'Musical Leader'; Frances Sonntag, soloist in New Thought church and a pupil of Miss Herschberg's.

"Miss Herschberg sang five numbers and I never heard her sing 'My Native Land' as she did that afternoon. The listeners with one accord, stood up, while applauding her and gathered around her asking for more favors.

"It seemed to me it would be interesting to Miss Herschberg's friends at home to hear of her being so well received in New York, in so short a time.

"Mrs. W. W. Davis."

A most complete surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hollar of East North street, when about 40 of the neighbors and friends called on them, last Monday evening, April 10. The most important feature was the presentation of the 50 pound pig given by those present and introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Hollar by the Spees Bros. while the merry crowd sang, "They Kept the Pig in the Parlor." The pig was decorated with an elaborate red ribbon and seemed to realize its importance and to know that it is to roost for them on their new farm, adjoining Wilkins' farm at Wilkins Corners. Mrs. Hollar, though greatly surprised, was equal to the occasion and after a speech of acceptance, set to work to make the guests as comfortable as possible, as they were packed up ready for leaving early next morning. Carrying beans on a knife to a given point was one of the games enjoyed, and the highest numbers were carried by Mrs. Frank Dixon and Mr. Clinton McKinney. The old game of putting the tail on the donkey caused much merriment and the prizes were won by Miss Louise Andrews and Mr. R.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

Concerning Ohio's candidate for president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, we are hearing from all quarters most favorable reports, which would indicate that club women generally recognize in Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath the combination of qualities which fit her to be placed at the head of a mighty organization.

It is only necessary for women to know her and to be informed of what she has done in the Federation and in the life of the community to become impressed by her strong and vital personality.

One of the strongest points in favor of Mrs. Sneath is her widely acknowledged ability to handle financial matters, and if elected will give the Federation a strong business administration.

It is because of her business qualifications that she has been elected director of the Interstate Trust and Banking company of New Orleans, La., and as a member of the Non-Partisan Tariff Commission.

It is greatly to be desired that all clubs send their full quota of delegates to New York, that we may have the largest delegation Ohio has ever registered.

A Word to Clubs.

In a circular letter to State Presidents, the chairman of music of the General Federation says, among other things: "Many Musical Departments and Musical Clubs could do much better work if they had more printed music to use. Will you make an appeal at the District and State meetings and in the magazine and newspaper articles to the women who own music of a good class which they are not using to send it to Mrs. Mary I. Wood of the Information Bureau, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, to loan to clubs? Money subscriptions will also be gladly received and in time we hope to make this a great help to clubs."

Lima City Federation has adopted the plan of devoting each month to a particular federation activity. April is conservation month, birds being given special attention. May will be devoted to the subject of Home Economics.

Conference of College Women. The third annual conference of college women of Ohio will meet in Athens May 5th and 6th. The Federation of the College Clubs of the state will be considered. All college women are urged to attend this meeting either as individuals or as representatives of college clubs and A. C. A.'s.

Miss Van Kleek of New York of the Vocational Bureau Service, will be the principal speaker.

HARVARD LEADS U. S. COLLEGES IN PREPAREDNESS MOVEMENT

Harvard University students drilling outdoors for first time.

Harvard University was among the first of the colleges to form a company of students into a semi-military body. Since its incorporation the members have devoted much of their spare time to drilling and going through manoeuvres, preparing for any emergency in which their training and knowledge may be of service. Many of the colleges throughout the United States have organized similar corps.

Lodges

K. OF P.
Newark Lodge No. 13.
At the regular meeting of Newark Lodge No. 13 K. of P. held on Thursday evening there was a large crowd in attendance when the gavel fell at 7:30 and routine of business was light and disposed of in every short order.

The six members are getting along very nicely and some were declared out of care of the lodge.

At about 8:30 the lodge adjourned to the banquet hall where the refreshment committee served a very nice supper consisting of the following menu:

Roast Pig	Gravy
Mashed Potatoes	Pickles
Potato Salad
Cream Cheese
Ice Cream and Cake
Coffee

And to say that they drove their pigs to a good market was shown by the fact that the tables looked like Villa's army had struck the mice.

After the banquet the members assembled in the lodge room and witnessed some of the proudest work in the lodge rank that has ever been seen in the history of old 13 and the team was highly commended on the way the work was put on.

Several applications were received for initiation and the lodge will make the new members on the 26th inst. Next Monday evening some definite action will be taken on the matter. It will be to the interest of all to follow to be present. Visiting brothers always welcome.

Reland Lodge.
In addition to the regular routine work of Reland Lodge 1st Tuesday evening two new petitions were read and the Pledge rank completed with the new features added to the June 20. The work was well done. The death of Brother James McCrum was announced and the necessary action taken. Mr. McCrum was a member nearly 20 years and attended the lodge meetings regularly in the old hall. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The funeral this afternoon was well attended by the Knights. This was the first death in the ranks of Reland Lodge since last April.

After the close of lodge a box of signals was passed the compliments of Bro. H. S. Kirkpatrick now located in Wheeling, W. Va. Many thanks. No work next Tuesday evening, but it is our hope that the entertainment committee would like to see a large crowd out.

The joint memorial committees of the two lodges are progressing nicely in the preparation of a suit program for the annual Pythian memorial Sunday, which will fall on June 11 this year.

Newark Chapter No. 24 American Insurance Union met in regular session Thursday evening a good attendance. Routine business was transacted. Two applications were received for initiation and the lodge will make the new members on the 26th inst. Next Monday evening some definite action will be taken on the matter. It will be to the interest of all to follow to be present. Visiting brothers always welcome.

Canton Lodge No. 20 P. M.
Canton Lodge No. 20 met in regular session Wednesday evening with a good attendance. The open meeting was a great success so it will have another on the 25th of May. Nine applications are now in for the P. M. Degree on May 10th and we are expecting some more. Every Chapter will be present at the next meeting April 26th when final arrangements will be made.

Oliver Lodge No. 24.
Tuesday night April 11, Oliver Lodge No. 24 met in regular session with fair attendance. Not much business was transacted but plans of us were conferred the first degree on Tuesday night and our anniversary.

committee will probably have a report on our next meeting. The Booster committee will meet at the Hall Sunday afternoon to consider matters to come before this committee.

Avoid Spring Colds.
Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and grippe, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. Its already prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years.

Certainly Frank.
A rector in South London was visiting one of his poorer parishioners, an old woman, afflicted with deafness. She expressed her great regret at not being able to hear his sermons. Desiring to be sympathetic, he replied, with unnecessary self-depreciation, "You don't miss much."

"So they tell me," was the disconcerting reply.—Kansas City Star

WONDERFUL EXPOSITION AT SAN DIEGO OPEN FOR SECOND YEAR

MISS "SAN DIEGO-1916"

Not content with breaking all Exposition records by remaining an entire year, San Diego's International enterprise has started on its second year, with March 18 as Dedication Day.

In the face of the world war, and the Mexican complications, the United States government is participating in the San Diego Exposition in far greater degree than ever in any International Exposition. A thousand marines, a battalion of infantry, a troop of cavalry, three bands, 18,000 square feet of display, requiring three complete buildings, and the presence of the Pacific fleet in the bay below the Exposition grounds, constitute the government's participation.

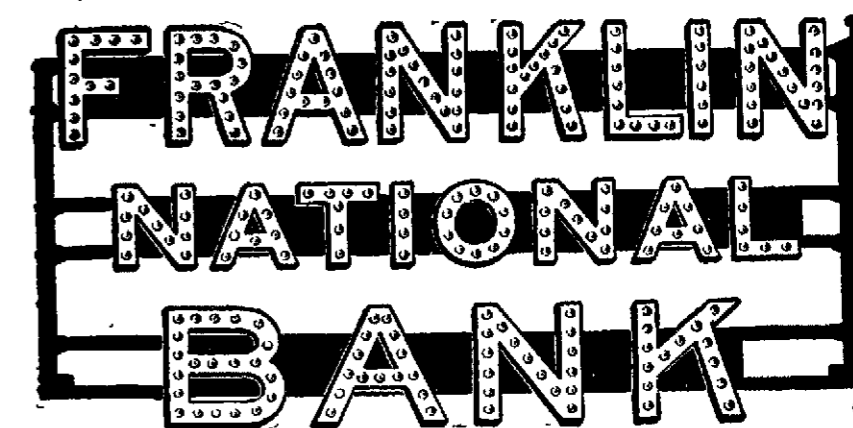

Always Pay By Check

When you pay bills in currency you often forget to ask for a receipt, and sometimes you dislike to ask for a receipt.

When you pay by checks drawn on this Bank you AUTOMATICALLY get a receipt for every payment and without the necessity of ever asking for a receipt, for this Bank will pay your check only when endorsed on the back by the man to whose order it is drawn.

Your cancelled checks, returned to you, give you a complete record of all payments.

Better open a checking account here at once in this strong, old Bank, and hereafter you will always have a receipt for every dollar you may pay out.

Dr. Herbert Scott injured.
Dr. Herbert Scott, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, at Zanesville, and well known in Newark, was painfully injured on Friday. While working in the yard surrounding the parsonage he stepped on a wet cellar door and dislocated his left shoulder. Services at Grace church will be conducted on Sabbath by Dr.
E. A. Boyd.

Bankrupts Discharged.
Among the bankrupts discharged Friday by Judge Sater of the United States district court at Columbus are

J. Flaherty, W. D. Steele and Leonard E. Parks of Cambridge; Kath-

Frank H. Smith of Kimbolton, and John H. Early of Newark.

Send Notice Early.
Those who wish to insure the publication of Easter programs in next Saturday's church column, must have the notices in this office Thursday afternoon. By that time every minister should know the subject upon which he will preach, and every choir director what musical program is to be offered.

REMOVE CORNS SAFELY
There is one sure and safe way to remove corns of all kinds without pain and discomfort. To get relief instantly, send some one to your nearest drug store for a 25c box of Dr.
Hunt's new corn cure which is giving such complete relief to many this season. Dr. Hunt's method penetrates and removes the corn and soothes and heals. It is simple and easy to use.
It makes feet comfortable almost instantly. Don't suffer another minute.
Be sure to get Dr. Hunt's new corn cure for nothing is so effective.

A man may be high-handed in his methods, but on the other hand he may also be under-handed.

Word comes from the lake that the Lake Eries are biting and that several good catches were made today.
The park will be a busy place tonight and tomorrow for every one is anxious to try their hand at spring fishing.

Shows Improvement.
Friends in this city have received word from Mr. Wm. Twiggs, the well known oil man, that his condition is greatly improved. Mr. Twiggs is in New York City at one of the noted sanitariums taking treatment.

Caught By Gate.
Wm. Sherrard of North avenue, a well known B. & O. engineer, had the top of his automobile torn off and his wind shield broken, by the gates descending at the Pan Handle crossing in East Newark about 6:30 o'clock last evening. Mr. Sherrard was driving and his two little grandchildren were with him. He had started across the tracks when the gates began to descend and caught the top of his machine. None of the occupants of the car was injured.

Fingers Cut Off.
Charles Eshelman, a carpenter, employed at the B. & O. shops had his left hand badly mangled on Friday. Mr. Eshelman was working on a rip saw, and four fingers were cut off the left hand. Dr. Homer J.
Davis dressed the injury. The B. & O. ambulance moved the injured to his home.

Building Permits.
No building permits were issued yesterday or today in the office of the public service department.

New Water Main.
The construction gang of the water works department is at work installing water mains in Fairheld avenue, a new street in the northeastern part of the city.

Materials Arriving.
Part of the material for the rehabilitation of the city electric light plant at the waterworks station, has arrived. It included wire and line material. Work will be started, probably next week on the foundations for the machinery at the water plant and the work will be carried steadily along. It is probable that the plant in the new location will not be in operation before October.

Blaze at Brewery.
A paper roof over the engine room of the Home brewery, formerly Kor-zenborn's, caused a fire scare Friday afternoon about 5:00 o'clock, an alarm from Box 21 calling apparatus from headquarters to the scene.
There was no loss.

Drunks Fined.
Three plain drunks arrested last night drew fines of $5 and costs in police court this morning when ar-above what it was yesterday morning, it registering 62 at noon today.

who meets Denver Jack Geyer in a 12-round bout at Columbus, April 25, has made arrangements with Paul Bowser to train in this city.
Gulart will come to Newark next week and begin his work for the coming bout. Gulart and Bowser are warm friends and the Newark grappler will assist in conditioning the heavyweight.

Gas for Park.
The two gas wells in the vicinity of the Shell Beach hotel continue to flow in the neighborhood of a half million cubic feet each per day. In all probability the gas will be piped across the lake to furnish fuel and light in the concessions and hotels operated by Messrs. Deffenbaugh and Fisher, park lessees. The surplus gas would then be sold to an operating company.

Condition Satisfactory.
The condition of Mr. George Hall, who fractured his skull when he fell down the cellar steps at his home in Central City, is very satisfactory to his attendants.

Condition Serious.

conductor is seriously ill at his home in Buena Vista street.

LABOR MEMORIAL SUNDAY, MAY 21, AT HIGH SCHOOL

Hon. John A. Voll of Zanesville, President Ohio Federation of Labor, Will Deliver Address.

More and more as the years go by labor and fraternal organizations are recognizing the beautiful custom of holding memorial services for those who have passed from the realm of labor into the world beyond. This custom has been observed with fitting regularity by the labor organizations of Newark since its inception, and each succeeding year adds more and more to the ranks of the departed as well as to the rank and file of the living.

Preparations are being made this year to do honor to the memory of the departed members of labor organizations in even a more fitting and becoming manner. Each separate organization is expected to turn out on mass and, preceded by the Buckeye Band, will march from East Park Place to the High School Auditorium where the memorial service will be held.

Hon. John A. Voll, of Zanesville,
President of the Ohio State Federation of Labor, has been engaged to deliver the address, which should be an inspiration to every member of organized labor and all of its friends to turn out on that occasion.

Mr. Voll might well be called "The Silent Speaker." He is one of the most effective and logical speakers in the ranks of labor and the Newark labor organizations are to be congratulated in securing his services for this occasion.

Flushing and Cleaning the System
Each Day—The First Rule of Health.

Professor Elie Metchnikoff, Sub-director, Pasteur Institute, and winner of the Nobel prize—1908—with his paper on "Prolongation of Life,"
says:

"Poisons generated in the intestines and absorbed into the blood are the chief causes of the majority of human ills."

Doctors everywhere are urging their patients to beware of the evils of Constipation, and advise the regular use of mineral water. Every year they send thousands of sufferers from Constipation, Stomach and Liver trouble to Dawson Springs, the home of Tollo Water.

You can buy this water from your druggist and should start taking it tomorrow morning. Pour a tumbler about one-third full of Tollo Water and fill with plain water—hot if convenient—and drink it before breakfast. The first glass will relieve your constipation in an easy, natural way. It does not irritate like drugs and oils, but flushes and cleans the stomach and bowels.

Continue to drink it every morning and your digestion will improve.
You can enjoy your meals without fear of that uncomfortable gas and stuffy feeling afterwards. That yellow tint will disappear from your skin and eyes; your liver being relieved, will act freely and remove the furry coat from your tongue, leaving your head clear, free from dullness and aches. You will get back that feeling of good health which makes you bright and cheerful all the time.

In the Denisonian this week, high tribute is paid Prof. Bunyan Spence for the distinguished services he has rendered in the field of intercollegiate debate. For three years he has given unceasingly of his time three years the success achieved by Professor Spence is striking. "With bate has proved his unusual ability to impress the fundamentals upon his students."

On Tuesday evening, April 18th, in Recital Hall, the Shepardson debaters will be matched against a strong team from Muskingum.
There should be a big turn out at this debate. Numbers lend enthusiasm and the girls deserve support.
The question under discussion is one upon which even the best educated and most enlightened on the topic as to whether "the Philippines should have their independence by 1921."

The negative team, Miss Margaret Given, captain; Misses Florence Chulbuck, Flossie Locke and Florence Drake are to debate at home with the Muskingum affirmative.

Student activities during the remaining of the semester will take the form of inter-class and interfraternity base ball, in addition to those already scheduled and the place will hum with industry from now until commencement time. Entertainment of public interest, such as the Glee Club concert on April 22, the Dandy Darkies on May 25, the Franklin play, recitals every Wednesday evening in Recital hall, besides dinners, picnics and the various social stunts which are always crowded into the spring term will keep the young people and their friends well occupied. The Spring Festival this year will be the best given in years, the famous Russian Symphony Orchestra, Modest Altschuler, conductor, being booked for May 8th in the Baptist church, this being the fifth number of the lecture course. The house is pretty well sold. Out of town people would do well to secure their seats as early as possible, as there is bound to be a rush at the last—and this is too great an opportunity to miss.

Kenneth Ullman, manager of the Denison base ball team, has been engaged in the herculean task of getting Beaver Field into shape for spring work. Like the high roads of the county, this historic field has suffered more than its usual winter, from the weather of the past winter, and it will require some energy and a good deal of labor to get it into condition. The track season is scheduled to open here, Wooster vs.
Denison, on April 22. The first ball game will probably be played on April 21.

Shepardson college enjoyed the annual spring party in Doane gymnasium last evening, and by all odds it was the most brilliant and beautiful function ever held there. The place was decorated with spring blossoms and formed an appropriate setting for the hundreds of pretty girls in their pretty gowns, who circled and glided over the smooth floor to the strains of a fine orchestra. No men are ever invited to these dances—which is to be counted as a distinct loss to the men.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN OBSERVANCE OF ARBOR DAY

On Friday afternoon Arbor Day exercises were held in all the public school buildings of this city. These exercises consisted in most buildings of a program of songs and declamations. Many buildings had arranged to give their exercises upon the lawns but owing to the weather being colder than usual, they were held for the most part within the school rooms and the corridors.

At the Hudson Avenue school a feature of the exercises was the presentation of a tree to the school building by the Daughters of America. The officers of this organization and many of its members were present. Senator Miller, President of the Board of Education, accepted the flag on behalf of the Board and Miss Stadden accepted the flag on behalf of the building. Both Senator Miller and Miss Stadden made brief addresses showing the appreciation of the schools for the interest taken by the Daughters of America in promoting Patriotism and love of country through these flag presentations to the public schools. The address of Senator Miller was full of good thoughts and was much appreciated both by the children and by the many visitors who were present.

At the Hartzler school exercises were held on over 200 feet of hedge was planted on the school ground. At the Conrad school a dozen fine maple trees furnished by the Board of Education was planted on the Heisey playground which is in connection with this building. Mr. Handel, superintendent of buildings had charge of the planting of these trees.

At the Woodside school a delightful program was given in the corridors of the school building where all pupils and teachers and about a hundred visitors gathered to listen to the exercises. The West End buildings and the East End buildings had exercises of a like nature to those conducted at Woodside.

At the High School a program was given by the Sophomore class in the auditorium. This was a delightful program and was followed by an address by Rev. Don D. Tullis which contained much splendid advice and many beautiful thoughts connected with the Arbor Day celebration. The Sophomore class of the High School planted a class tree on the High school lawn. Then the pupils and teachers went to the White Athletic field where 40 or more trees were planted by the different classes of the High school. These trees were secured by pupils from the farms represented by children in the High school. Many of them coming from the Pitzer farm south of the city. John Pitzer, a member of the Senior class, arranging this matter for the school.

Within the past week, thousands of packages of flower seeds have been distributed to children at small cost to be planted in their home gardens and lawns. All in all this year's Arbor Day celebration has been one of the most successful yet connected with the city schools. The results of these Arbor day exercises will be more apparent in the years to come than at the present.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT CENTRAL BUILDING.

The coming of spring and Earth's awakening was fittingly celebrated as well as the love of the beautiful and helpful service to nature, graphically instilled, in the Arbor Day exercises given at Central school on Friday afternoon. In accordance with the civic spirit of the times a preparatory clean up was given the grounds and building.

The twelve schools of the building united in one program each school being represented by one or more of its pupils.

The platform erected in the east yard and beautifully decorated with blossoming branches had to be abandoned because of the inclemency of the weather but the following program was given four times inside the building.

To Rid Child of Worms.
Don't scold the fretful, nervous child. Often its due to worms. Get rid of these by giving one-half to one lozenge Kickapoo Worm Killer, a laxative worm candy. Give only plain nourishing food, lots of out-door exercise and put to bed early. Watch stools and continue giving Kickapoo Worm Lozenges, they will positively remove the worms. 25c at Drug-gists.

Good Cover.
"Why, Johnny," said a mother to her 4-year-old son, "aren't you ashamed to go about with such a dirty face?"
"Don't you worry about it, mamma," he replied. "As soon as I get a little bigger I'll raise whiskers, then you won't notice the dirt."—Kansas City Star.

Saying "Here's to you" merely demonstrates that many a man has been toasted to his face, only to be roasted behind his back.

Mrs. Good's Death.
Editor of the Advocate:
The killing of Mrs. Good, an old lady by a train between Fifth and Sixth street last Friday morning is much regretted. She was in the act of gathering coal along the railroad tracks when killed.

Poverty, doubtless, forced her to do so. How gladly would the township trustees or the Associated Charities furnished her and her family a supply of coal had they but known of her need.

Let it be sincerely hoped that in the future no one will trespass on the railway tracks to pick up coal, but rather let those in urgent need make their needs known that aid may be given them.

MAC MOSSMAN,
Township Trustee.

Perpetual Wonder.
"I wonder how Flabdyb can afford an auto. Don't you?"
"No. I don't wonder how he can afford an auto. I know he can't afford an auto. But how do gazaboos like him manage to get hold of autos? That is what flabbergasts me."—Kansas City Journal.

Even when a fellow is trying to worm his way into her affections a girl should remember that the worm will turn.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

A GREAT FREE DEMONSTRATION OF SCHOLL'S FOOT COMFORT SERVICE Tuesday, Apr. 18

Consult the Chicago Foot Specialist Free

On these two days Free examination and advice will be given by an expert under the direction of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the famous foot specialist. He will also give demonstrations of foot appliances necessary in the correction of foot troubles. This important event was arranged at great expense principally for you who have weak, tired, aching, calloused feet, for you who suffer from bunion pains and corns, or who have broken down arches, crooked toes, and hammer toes, for you who have tried fruitlessly to get relief. Not obliged to buy shoes here.

If you have flat foot, weak feet or broken down arches, no matter if you are already wearing arch supports, have your feet scientifically examined by this specialist and let him advise you what to do. If you have been using bunion and corn remedies that furnish temporary relief without correcting the cause be sure to get this scientific advice.

If you are one of the many thousands who have always had trouble in being properly fitted to shapely footgear come to our store. The difficulty will be solved easily and simply and perfect foot comfort will be given you.

WARNING: You may not realize it but those slight aches at the heels and ankles, those painful cramped toes, that body weariness and brain fog are typical of weak arches and likely to result in serious derangement of the whole nervous system. Many have mistaken these pains for rheumatism of the feet and have tried internal remedies to correct them when all they really needed was proper support of the feet arches.

Reason For This Demonstration

It has been our ever constant aim to make this the most progressive shoe store in town. For months we have thoroughly investigated the efficiency of the service rendered users of Dr. Scholl's Foot Specialties and wearers of his appliances. We have seen people who previously walked with great difficulty now able to stand the most rigorous exercise of the feet, enduring long walks and long standing without the slightest annoyance. We have found every one of Dr. Scholl's corrective devices anatomically correct and scientifically perfect. To give our patrons and friends the fullest benefit of the Scholl Foot Comfort Service we have arranged this demonstration and will henceforth conduct in our store an orthopedic department for continued service of this character. We are headquarters for Scholl's Foot Comfort Specialties and Appliances.

There's a Scholl Appliance for Every Foot Ailment or Deformity

Whatever your foot trouble may be, there is a Scholl appliance or device which will correct permanently the trouble from which you are suffering. Consult this noted specialist and let him advise you about your trouble.
